THE COURTS.

Avoidance of Trial on a Technicality.

JUDICIAL RAID ON MURDERERS.

In July last Meyer H. Goldscamidt sold his interest the Tivoli Theatre to Jacob Aberie, but, as be ms, reserving for his own use the upper floor till the lat of next May, and paying therefor in advance om the proceeds of the saie. A lew days since Aberle, as alleged, made forcible entry on the upper floor, claiming his right to occupy the same. A suit or trespass was accordingly brought by Mr. Goldchmidt sgainst Aberic, and the case came on for tris resterday before Judge Robinson, of the Court of Com leas. The parties were in Court, represented by their respective counsel, and a jury in readiness to pass upon the merits of the case. There was first raised a preliminary objection that in the notice of train it was stated that it would take place "before the honorable a Judge of the Court of Com-before the honorable a Judge of the Court of Com-non Pleas."

I dou't know any such Judge in this Court as the onorable," insisted counsel.
"I should hope they are all honorable," said Judge tobusson, smiling.
"But the notice is not specific enough," insisted

This objection was overruled, and then it was fur This objection was overruled, and then it was further objected that in the precept the requirements of the statutes were not complied with in designating both time and place, only time being mentioned. "That is a fatal objection," and Judge Robinson, "and order the proceedings dismissed with an apology to the jury for having been summoned here on such fattle proceedings."

Although thus beaten on a technical point, Mr. Goldschmidt says he does not intend to give it up so, but will come into court next time with a legal armor that will resist the attacks of the most will counsel.

TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDER.

Although having disposed of four murder cases dur-ing the past week there is no diminution of zeal in the urt of General Sessions in its effort to dispose of the entire calendar of homicide cases awaiting trial in this urt. Fith in the series of murder trials during the Court. Fl:th in the series of murder trials during the present term there will be commenced to-morrow, before Judge Sutherland, the trial of Francis McGuira, indicted for murder in the first degree for killing his wife, Ann McGuire. On the 13th of August last McGuire, who had been visiting Central Park with his son during the day, returned in the evening to his late residence, No. 335 East libity-first street, and because his wife had not supper prepared for them became turious and stabbed her in the abdomen, producing injuries from the effects of which she died. Assistant District Attorney Rollins will prosecute the case, and Measrs. A. Oakey Hall and William F. Kintzing will defend the prisoner.

SUMMARY OF LAW CASES. Judge Shipman announces that he will call the jury lendar in the United States Circuit Court on Tuesday porning the 17th inst. at ten o'clock.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT. WASHINGTON, Oct. 14, 1876. The following cases were argued in the United States

Supremo Court yesterday:—
No. 30. Terry vs. Hank of Commerco, and No. 31,
Same vs. Merchauts and Planters' Bank and Roberts.—
Barne for the Circuit Court for Georgia.—This was an action to recover from the assets of the bank an amount to pay its bills in the hands of the plaintiff in error, and the only question presented is whether one Hatch, also a creditor of the bank, and who had reliased to accept the assignment made by the bank, as the others had done, was thereby deprived of the right to share pro rata with such others in the proceeds of the sale of the assets. The Court below held that his rejusal to accept the assignment was no bar to his right to share. It is herefcontended that it was so and most assuredly thus after he had brought action against the bank and some of its directors, securing satisfaction of some of his claims.

No. 31 presents a like question, and both questions are heard as one. Corbin and Stone for appellant, A.

THE CHINESE OFFICIALS.

THEIR VISIT IN NEW YORK-SIGHTS THEY SEE AND WHAT THEY THINK OF THEM.

The Chinese representatives at present in this are employing their time to the utmost in observing everything of interest. The two Commissioners, Li Siaoch 'th and Chin Che Heuen, besides their official duties at the Centennial Exhibition, are in-trusted with another mission, viz:—The compilation of nteresting facts concerning industries of every kind and the public and government institutions of America. They are to gather all necessary information during their visit, and, when they return to China, will prepare a book upon what they have seen. Chin Che Heuen and Wu Ying Sing, the Mandarin, both speak the English innguage fairly and are able to understand it even better. During their stay here, which will probably extend until next Tuesday or understand it even better. During their stay here, which will probably extend until next Tuesday or Wednesday, they are the guests of Mr. Henry Havomeyer, who also assumes the duty of escorting them to different points of interest.

On Frinday afternoon a small steamer was taken for the party, and visits were made to the sugar works at Jersey City and Greenpoint. The toreigners took a deep interest in the process of refining; and, possessing naturally keen perceptive inculties, they soon, grasped all the details of the work. Afterward they steamed around the islands to Heil Gate, lunching meanwhile on board. In the ovening a soirse musicate was given in their honor at Mr. Havemeyer's residence, and they showed an entire appreciation of the music, which included several concerted pianoforte pieces. At a later hour the Fire Department was visited, and the Mongolians were astonished at the facilities employed. In their own country, they said, from four to aix hours were occupied in getting to a fire.

Yesterday morning the party, excepting Wu Ying Sing, were early upon their travels; first going to Stewart's retail dry goods siore. What claimed their particular interest here was the sewing machine department. This machine, by the way, is one for which the Chinese appear to have a natural apititude, large numbers of them being employed in San Francisco as operators. The Mayor's office was next visited, where the foreigners were presented to the Chief Magistrate of the city by Mr. Havemeyer. Mayor Wickham in turn gave them a cordinal reception, with which they were evidently well pleased. Then they proceeded to the Tombs and were conducted through its absyrintham ways by Warden Quinn. At the time of their visit the Court of Special Sessions was open, and the Celestial visitors watched the manner of transacting business in that branch of the public service.

After this were taken in regular order the Mercantile Sate Deposit Company, the sub-Treasury, the Custom House and dinner. With the first mentioned they were exp

THE EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

The large "cradle" cable which was brought to the New York pier on Saturday, the 7th inst., was hoisted to the top of the New York tower on Friday. Nothing was done with it yesterday, because Mr. Farrington, who has entire charge of the wirework on the bridge, thought that if there was any hitch in bringing it over the river it would not be safe to let it remain dangling all day on the Sabbath. To-morrow morning, at eight o'clock, the work of taking this cable over will commence. All of the necessary paraphernalia, such as the clamps, pulley and wheels are already in position, so that by to-morrow Mr. Farrington confidently expects that this the first of the large "oradle" cables, will be safely stretched scross the river and firmly secured at the Brooklyn auchorave. The cable will be carried over on the "carrier" rope, to which it will be attached by "esser hooks." After it is carried over two men will be drawn in an iron buggy over. These men remove the hooks, and leave the cable free to be stretched into position. thought that if there was any hitch in bringing it over

THE SIXTH AVENUE MYSTERY.

UNSUCCESSFUL EFFORTS TO OBTAIN FURTHER EVIDENCE.

Coroner Ellinger yesterday morning went to the residence of Mrs. Cora Checseman, No. 976 Sixth avenue, to ascertain if possible any further particulars relative to the tragedy on Thursday night. It appears that on the night in question Mrs. Cheeseman ran into a lager beer saloon two doors from her house in a very excited state and cried out, "I am shot." Mr. K. A colored servant in the lady to the fatal the place from his late presidence of a youn the table, as though some persons had just finished dinner.

The police were notified and Roundsman Minneck and Officer Ryan, of the Nineteenth precinct, went to the place. They found the bullet in the door and cut it out for evidence in case the aftair should terminate seriously. Police Surgeon Clements attended her and said that the case was very mysterious. She acknowledged to him that she had shot herself, but refused to give any of the particulars. The bullet in the door would seem to indicate that she had fired at some one who left the room. She admitted that she had fared at some one who left the room. She admitted that she had had a quarrel with her husband and had attempted to shoot herself, but denied that it was through jealously. She appears to have quarrelled several times with her husband previous to the tragical sct. Since then he has disappeared and the police have been unable to find him. The impression in the minds of many is that the lady has been shot by some one and refuses to divulge the lacts, preferring to lay the blamo on herself.

many is that the lady has been shot by some one and refuses to divulge the lacts, preferring to lay the blamo on herself.

The excuse that Mrs. Cheeseman gave to Coroner Ellinger for her slieged attempt at suicide is that sho was despondent on account of money matters. She said she was vexed because a dressmaker did not bring her the clothes that she had ordered. Coroner Ellinger did not succeed in his attempt to get her to make any statement whatever in regard to the affair. She said that she had shot herself and positively refused to give any further information.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Cheeseman, and the police are on the lookout for him, thinking that he can throw much light on the matter, as he is supposed to have been with her at the time.

A strange lady from Lynn, Mass, was attending Mrs. Cheeseman yesterday. She said that she came to this city in response to the following despatch:—

Cora has been murdered. Come on at once. CORA.

The signature being that of the wounded lady, and the despatch to her iriend averting that she had been produced, leads the police to believe that there is more in the case than appears as first sight. The strange lady was very reticent, and finally refused to say anything, at the request of Mrs. Cheeseman, who biamed the Coroner very much for attempting to interfere in what she considered her private affairs.

Superintendent Walling was notified of the case and has ordered the police to keep a strict lookout for the dying lady's husband.

RAID ON THE PARISIAN VARIETIES.

About nine o'clock last evening a raid was made on the "Parisian Varieties," in West Sixteenth street. The performance had been going on as usual, when suddenly several men rushed to the front and one suddenly several men fushed to the front and one leaped on the stage, introducing himself as a police captain and declaring all persons on the stage under arrest. The audience at once dispersed and the street outside was filled with a crowd who hissed and ground at Captain Williams who headed the detachment of police. The actors and actresses were then marched off to the station house, each in custody of a policeman. The raid was made on account of tile neighbors complaining of the "Varieties" as a disorderly house.

[THE HOWARD METHOD Single and Speaking.

The attention of the musical and dramatic profession is called to "the Howard method." Voices which have become worn, hellow, banky, weak or neeven, are proved to be intrinsically as sound as ever, though temporarily impaired by had habits, which this entirely new plan will remove. Actual disease of the othersting parts is found to be exceedingly are even in chromic cases of enterth of the large a company area of treather but untrained voices to greater power, partly, compass and execution, is made a task of months instead of years.

"Among the most successful exponents of the value of actionation training is Mr. John Howard, of New York, whose remarkable schevoments in restoring inimed vocal powers, extending the compass and volume of tone, and giving command of the organs of utterance, have won him the thirds-t encounters from crators, singers, physicians and the professional public. " Mr. Howard has already accomplished some comarkable results here."

"I nave been sindying for the past few mouths with Mr. Howard, and wish to inderse his new method as arrikingly, original and efficacions, and as fully supporting the claim which he makes for it."
